Inaugural “Run for the Roses” a huge success!

Event Benefits local grassroots Children’s Charity

May 4, 2009- Boca Raton, FL - Children, Hope & Horses hosted their inaugural event “Run for the Roses” on Saturday, May, 2 at Gatsby’s of Boca. Honorary Chairperson was Robert G. Cooper, President/CEO of Johnson, Morgan, & White. Co- Chairwomen were Diane Frankle and Abbi Bentz.

The “Run for the Roses” event included a Live broadcast of the Kentucky Derby, a “Derby Hat Contest”, Silent Auction and a Raffle. Prizes awarded for the best children’s hat, best adult hat, and most creative hat. “Celebrity” Jockeys in attendance were Hannah Bentz, Robert Cooper, Janice Williams and Tom Newberry.

The Mission at Children, Hope and Horses is to establish a positive supportive learning environment for abused, neglected, and abandoned children. Through a structured, interactive child-and-horse program, every child is provided an opportunity to build self-esteem, self-worth, and the confidence to grow and develop into responsible, productive adults.

“We were thrilled with the support from the local community we received for this event”, said Co-Chairwoman Diane Frankle. “Children, Hope and Horses is based upon a simple but much needed concept with immense rewards to everyone involved and I am grateful to our Honorary Chairman, to Abbi, my Co-Chair and to the community for their consideration of this wonderful organization.”
